TO KILL IDIOTS.

David O. Hudson Assailed By Critics.

Dr. David O. Hudson, of Montgomery City, Mo., who made public his sensational theory advocating a dose of prussic acid for all idiots and hopelessly insane people, gives reasons and incidents leading up to his public declaration.

He contends that it is the doctrine of mercy and says: "I have repeatedly stated and I want it distinctly understood that this new doctrine to exterminate the idiots, incurable and hopeless, who are in their last stages is not advanced simply to rid the State and society of its burden, but as a means of mercy to the afflicted themselves."

"In answer to the many letters and criticisms received, some complimentary, others laudatory, I would say that I can see nothing wrong in relieving this awful condition, where it can be so easily done and these patients transferred from this awful state of a living hell to one of eternal ecstasy. Could some of the doctors, editors and others who condemn my position so severely see the sights I have seen, it might change their ideas. To me there is one thing certain: the counties and States should look more humanely after this unfortunate class, or their suffering should be relieved as I have suggested."

"I see no reason why this class after being passed upon by a properly constituted lawful commission should not be mercifully put to sleep forever. The class I refer to are not human, but idiots, or those bereft of all human instinct, mere animals."

Dr. Hudson is a member of the Montgomery, Mo., School Board, one of the Wellsville Pension Examiners Board and also a member of the State Medical Association and former County Physician. He is being almost overwhelmed with this controversy. Most of his correspondents condemn his theory, but many are agreeing with him.

Bids Rejected.

The Bourbon Fiscal Court rejected all bids for repairs on the turnpikes of the county, and passed an order referring the entire matter to Road Supervisor C. F. Redmon.

AGAIN IN NEW YORK.

Governor Willson Says The Day of Mint Julep is Numbered.

Kentucky's famous mint julep will soon be a thing of the past. Sweeping over the nation, the prohibition wave has struck the commonwealth noted for its beautiful women, its fast horses and its good whisky. Practically the entire State is "dry." Feudalism is dead; good feeling prevails between Republicans and Democrats and the "night riders" are now upright and law-abiding citizens.

This is the wonderful transformation that has come over the State where the blue grass grows, according to Governor A. E. Willson, who arrived in New York on April 11 to attend the annual banquet of the Kentucky Society of New York, held at the Hotel St. Regis on April 12.

Governor Willson is modest. He claims for himself and his administration none of the credit of the wonderful change which has taken place in Kentucky.

"There is no State in the union where you will find so much good whisky and so little drinking as in Kentucky," Gov. Willson said. "We are really drinking water out there now, and we like the taste of it too."

"Local option prevails in practically every county in the State, and Kentucky is really becoming a temperance State. I will wager that there is less drinking there than you will find in the prohibition State of Maine. I am serious when I tell you these things. This is not local talk for foreign consumption."

Governor Willson declined to be drawn into a discussion of Caleb Powers' candidacy for Congress in the Eleventh, or to make any mention of the "night riders" or the mountain feuds more than to say that feudalism is dead in Kentucky and that the tobacco war is a thing of the past.

"No, I can't discuss Kentucky politics," he said. "Good feeling prevails between the two parties, and far be it from me to say one word which will reopen the old fights."

Governor Willson said that he believed there would be a revival of interest in racing in Kentucky, and that every effort would be made to put a stop to the gambling end of the sport.

The Real Thing.
"I guess I'll take a hand in the poker game," blazed the gambler's wife, as she broke up the party with a flourish of that homely but useful kitchen article in her muscular hand.

HALLEY'S COMET

Speeding Toward Us at Rate of Over 100,000 Miles an Hour.

It becomes visible about once in every 76 years.

It was named after Halley, the astronomer who observed it in 1682 and calculated that it returned at regular intervals.

It will reach the nearest point to the earth on May 10, 1910, when it will be 10,000,000 miles away.

Halley's comet was visible at the time of the Norman conquest of England, and on that account has always been associated with great events.

It was seen again in the year of the battle of Agincourt and at other momentous periods.

It is believed to have been the star that guided the wise men to the Savior's birthplace at Bethlehem.

It is traveling at a speed of over 100,000 miles an hour.

It has traveled 6,800,000,000 miles since we last saw it.

Our earth was probably in collision with a comet in prehistoric times.

It the comet struck the earth our temperature would be raised hundreds of thousands of degrees and we should be burned up.

The tail of a comet consists of immeasurably minute particles which are shot off from the head, or nucleus, by force emanating from the sun.

The tail of the comet always turns away from the sun, changing its direction as the head passes round the sun.

The comet produces billions of miles of light without heat in some unexplained way.

The eighth satellite of Jupiter is believed to be the lost Lexell's comet, which having come within a million miles of Jupiter, has been forced to become a satellite of that planet.

A comet is not a compact mass, but is usually transparent, even through the nucleus.

The earth passed through a comet's tail in 1819 and 1861.

Hundreds of cubic miles of a comet's tail are outweighed by a jar full of air.

According to Sir Oliver Lodge and others, a comet's tail is made of particles of material electricity one thousand times smaller than an atom.

Prof. Charles A. Young, the astronomer, has said that a collision between the earth and the comet is bound to occur.

Extension of Rural Routes.

The extension of the rural free delivery is taking definite form. During March more than sixty thousand petitions for rural service were presented to the department. Adverse reports were made on more than 17,000 of them. The others will be allowed. There are now in operation more than 41,000 routes.

Col. Morris B. Belknap Dead.

After an illness of two years, Col. Morris Burke Belknap, soldier, capitalist and man of affairs generally, died at his home in Louisville. Death was due to pernicious anemia. For the last week the patient had been in a state of coma and he lapsed into unconsciousness preceding the end Monday afternoon. The members of his immediate family were at his side when death occurred.

NO BLOODSHED

When Governor Willson and Secretary Bruner Met.

Why there was not bloodshed at the State Capitol at Frankfort, Ky., is a puzzle to one woman who keeps well posted on things political in Kentucky, and who happened to be in the Capitol when Governor Willson and Dr. Ben Bruner met for the first time after the broadcast which Dr. Bruner fired at the Governor.

This woman saw Dr. Bruner go into the Governor's office to attend a meeting of the Capitol Commission and she grew vastly excited, expecting to hear sounds of conflict. But nothing happened. To all intents and purposes they were just as good friends as they had ever been and there was nothing to show that these two men had been throwing verbal bricks at each other. The woman could not understand this, and said:

"Two women could not do that. They would row certainly if they had to be thrown together after saying mean things about each other in the papers. That is what I cannot understand about men; how they can put aside their personal differences and attend to business just like they were the best of friends."

White Appointed Postmaster at Winchester.

The President has sent to the Senate the nomination of John G. White for postmaster at Winchester succeed R. R. Perry, editor of the Sun-Sentinel. He was one of the leaders of the Fairbanks organization in the Tenth district, and is a close friend of Senator Bradley.

How Interest-Bearing Warrants May Issue.

With the exception of the common school fund, the State University fund and sinking fund, the State Treasurer may issue interest-bearing warrants for the debts of the State. This opinion was given to Treasurer Farley by Attorney General Breathitt.

The funds mentioned are exempted under the provisions of the bill. Debts accruing during the current year, however, should be paid with the revenues of the year. The Treasurer should wait until it is definitely known whether or not there will be sufficient revenue for the current year to pay the debts before the interest-bearing warrants are issued.

Interest-bearing warrants may be issued in payment for claims against the charitable and penal institutions and the normal schools, and also for payment of debts from claims overdue. These points are in substance the opinion on the issuing of interest-bearing warrants.

The Kentucky State Racing Commission which for four years have governed racing in this State and whose terms of office expired April 15, held their last meeting Thursday in Lexington. Favorite Form of Suicide.

Though shooting is recognized as an easy mode of suicide, it is not the favorite one in New York city, for, according to the coroner's records, there are one-twelfth more cases of self-destruction by asphyxiation.

Mileage Graft.

Representative Cox has introduced a bill to reduce the mileage of Congressmen from 20 cents to 5 cents a mile. As the railroad fare is usually less than 3 cents, that is even too much.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They are Mt. Sterling People, and What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press; are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on:

Thomas Holland, 52 E. High St., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I have been using Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally for two years and I consider them an excellent remedy. Doctors pronounced my trouble lumbago and spent hundreds of dollars in an unsuccessful effort to find relief. Doan's Kidney Pills, however, which I procured at F. C. Duerson's Drug Store, did me more good than any other remedy I had previously taken. They removed the back-ache, and regulated the passages of the kidney secretions, in fact, entirely cured me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. 41-2t

Adjournment of Congress.

Everything in Congress is subordinate to the Administration railroad bill. The regular and insurgent Republicans are in sharp conflict, while the Democrats look on, ready to grasp any political advantage. The measure will not pass the upper House before May 1. In the lower House no one has a guess.

The active campaign for pooling the 1910 white barley crop of Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana was begun at Lexington by the district board of the Barley Society. Several thousand acres have been pledged to the organization and pledges covering the remaining acreage will be at once offered in the sixty odd counties in which the society operates.

For a mild easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Regulants is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them. 1m

STAY AT HOME.

Caleb Powers is a candidate for Congress in the Eleventh against Congressman D. C. Edwards. We hope he will be elected—to stay at home. His candidacy should receive no encouragement from men in high political position.

RATHER JARRING.

We copy from the Danville Advocate:

"W. A. Bottom, keeper of a saloon at Lawrenceburg, and one of the wealthiest men in Anderson county, was heavily soaked in the police court at Harrodsburg for bringing liquor into local option territory for sale. He, with his bartender, were sentenced to 30 days in jail in three cases and fined $100 in each case."

DANVILLE JARRED.

To be told that they are not living under local option law, as Judge Sauley informed them judicially the other day, must have jarred the good citizens of the staid and upright old town of Danville from center to circumference. Since 1890 the capital of Boyle county has been held up as a model and cited as a refutation of the vile slander that prohibition does not prohibit, although at various periods some twenty-four to thirty citizens thereof have invested periodically in Federal licenses to dispose of spirituous and vinous liquors, doubtless to aid the party in power to run the government, and with no intention or design to disregard the supposed local option law, which Judge Sauley declares was repealed when the Legislature passed a law making fourth class cities the unit on local option questions. The decision gives the City Council the right to grant liquor licenses and if it should get in such work before an election can be held all efforts of nearly twenty years will go for naught. It is the safest kind of a bet, however, that no licenses will be granted. The Council knows the sentiment of the citizens and would not fly in the face of it. The average Danvillian is bound to the idol of prohibition and it is an almost dead sure proposition that the city will never permit an open saloon. —Lexington Herald of April 18.

To Hon. A. W. Young, Judge Montgomery Circuit Court: The Grand Jury for the April term, 1910, of this Court submits the following report of findings and actions:

The Grand Jury has been in session for five days, has made diligent inquiry as to crimes and misdemeanors in the county, and has returned a number of indictments against various parties.

The public buildings, Court House and County Jail, are kept in good order and such repairs as are necessary to keep such buildings in good shape were promised to be looked after by the County Judge.

FACTS & OBSERVATIONS

A DAY IN A FINE COUNTRY.

For recreation, pleasure and business, the writer spent Thursday afternoon and Friday on a trip to Sharpsburg, Bethel and Sherburne. We had not been over the bar since last fall. During the winter we had heard of the dilapidated condition of the pike, rendered so largely because of the unusually large shipment of tobacco from our county, parts of Bourbon, Bath, Nicholas and Fleming. After the very fine weather during the entire month of March there has evidently been much improvement in the road. We are not complaining when we say the "glory of our pikes" if departed especially on this route and in spots. The appearance is more like a fine dirt road with some rock than a fine pike with some dirt. Possibly the officers in charge have done well considering the limited revenue available for pikes and the heavy hauling.

FARM WORK.

The season has been favorable for work. The plowed acreage is heavy. Indications are the tobacco crop will be heavy, stimulated by big prices brought about by reason of the Burley tobacco organization. If farmers are not careful there will be a big reduction in the acreage of corn, too much attention being given to tobacco. The present scarcity and high price of hogs should increase the corn crop. Grass is luxuriant for the season. We saw few oats. Wheat looks vigorous.

SICK.

Going we spent a few minutes with Mr. Jack Clark, near Judy. He has been crippled since last October and is confined to his bed much of the time. He is 78 years old and, though slightly improved, was very frail.

At Sherburne Mrs. Lou Waugh, aged 70 years, recently paralyzed, was dangerously sick. She is the oldest sister of ex-Judge Jno. A. Daugherty, of Owingsville.

SHARPSBURG.

At Sharpsburg we sat a few minutes with Mr. Wm. Withers, now about 82 years old. He has been a man of remarkable strength and activity. For some months he has been very feeble.

Miss Anna Jefferson Sharp has returned from Florida.

Mrs. Jas. Whaley and Mrs. W. E. Kern are visiting the family of Judge Ed. C. O'Rear, of Frankfort.

BETHEL.

As usual we spent the night with our friends, W. H. Pieratt and family. Their home has been remodeled and enlarged since our last visit. It is much improved and has always been very hospitable. We knew him in the "mountains" moreover we officiated at his marriage to Miss Duff, of our county. Their little ones are always glad to see us.

Mrs. Wm. Day was visiting in Montgomery, so we failed to see her and children. For a while we sat socially with Mrs. Patsy Crouch, and with Mrs. Sallie Scott and Mrs. Thos. Robertson.

The Bank of Bethel opened for business March 24, with a capital of $15,000. The deposits are now over $21,000. Plans have been adopted for a one-story plate glass front, brick banking house, 22x48 feet, bids received and the erection will soon begin. As much of the tobacco and other farm products had been sold before the bank opened, the deposits are necessarily small. There will be a big increase next season. With two banks at Sharpsburg (5 miles distant) one at Sherburne (5 miles distant) and one at Moorefield, the territory to be supplied is limited. A gentleman said there is more money at and near Bethel than for a long time.

JUDY.

As we returned late on Friday we saw Clarence Pieratt leading a valuable brood mare which had been severely cut by going over a barbed wire fence. He was riding her when he saw a man coming on a motor cycle. He waved for the machine to stop, knowing how scary the mare was. The machine advanced. Mr. Pieratt jumped from the mare, but could not hold her. She went over a barbed wire fence and was severely cut in front. Veterinary Robinson was called from town and took 38 stitches on the cuts. The loss will be considerable to Mr. Pieratt.

Elect officers.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Montgomery County Fair Association last Friday the following Board of Directors was elected for the ensuing year:

James R. Magowan, James H. Gillaspie, Dan N. Young, Roger D. Barnes, Jack C. Graves, John D. Greenwade and Dr. W. R. Thompson. This is the board that served last year, with the exception of Dr. Thompson, who succeeds Thomas J. Bigstaff.

The Board of Directors organized and elected James R. Magowan, President; W. C. Hamilton, Secretary; and Chas. G. Thompson, Treasurer. Roger D. Barnes was elected 1st Vice-President; Dr. W. R. Thompson, 2nd Vice-President; Jno. S. Frazer, 3rd Vice-President; Jno. G. Winn, 4th Vice-President; W. S. Lloyd, 5th Vice-President; J. O. Greene, 6th Vice-President; R. B. Young, 7th Vice-President. The Board then proceeded to the fair grounds for the purpose of selecting a site for the new training barns and to locate line of new territory for the fair grounds. The new territory to be taken in has its beginning corner in the rear of and near the floral hall, running so as to include the highland, giving full observation of the track and fair grounds, also adding many groves of shade trees to the grounds. It is intended to appropriate the most suitable portion of this new territory to cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry, etc., exhibit.

There will be a complete system of waterworks installed in amphitheatre and floral hall; the amphitheatre will be enlarged and everything made convenient.

The dates of the fair this year are July 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23.

Cooper Case Believed to Have Been Ended.

Robin J. Cooper filed a new bond in the Criminal Court at Nashville, Tenn., on April 15, to appear when wanted to answer to the charge of killing former United States Senator Edward W. Carmack. Many believe that because of the difficulty in getting a jury, young Cooper will never be called to the bar.

The pardon of Col D. B. Cooper continues to be the one-absorbing topic in Tennessee. The Carmack supporters issued a synopsis of pardons made by Governor Patterson during his term. These number 956, exclusive of commutations. Of these pardons 152 were given to men convicted of murder.

Sues L. & E. Road For $20,000.

The trial of Floyd Horton vs. the L. & E. Railroad was begun in the Clark County Circuit Court Thursday. Horton is suing the railroad company for injuries received while on a train, alleging neglect on the part of the employees in failing to enforce order on the train. The jury reported 8 in favor of the road and 4 for Horton, hence no verdict. A difficulty arose between Floyd Horton, his son, Rees, and Gardner Nelson as the train left Clay City. Horton was shot by Nelson. He now sues the railroad for $20,000 damages for injuries received.

License Revoked.

Drastic action was taken by Mayor Skain at Lexington on Saturday to put a stop to violations of the Sunday closing law, when he not only revoked the license of the Lexington Cafe Co., charged with keeping its place of business open on Sunday, April 19, but declared its bond of $200 forfeited, and directed City Solicitor to take legal steps to collect the bond from the indemnity company. This action followed the conviction in the Police Court of the Lexington Cafe Company, which was found guilty and fined $20 and cost.

County Clerk John F. King Dead.

Since last August John F. King, of our city, has been in feeble health. Many friends were apprehensive of the result as they saw his strength failing, and for several weeks believed that his work would soon cease. Medical skill and loving ministrations could not prolong life. On Tuesday morning after 9 o'clock, April 19, 1910, his body rested and his spirit returned to its Creator.

John F. King was born in Nicholas county on April 7, 1859, the eldest son of Jas. C. King and wife, both deceased. While a little boy his parents moved to this county. In our city he grew to manhood, respected, trusted and honored, because he was worthy.

He held responsible positions with the Exchange Bank for several years, closing as general book-keeper in 1893 when he formed a partnership in the dry goods business with the firm of Samuels & King. Retiring from that he was engaged with the Mt. Sterling National Bank. His service here was characterized by his usual attentiveness and efficiency.

He next assisted to the Clerkship of Montgomery County Court and was elected by the Democrats. He served faithfully and well for one term of four years, and before the term had closed was again nominated and elected without opposition, and on January 1 of this year began his second term. Among the County Clerks of Kentucky he ranked very high for promptness, neatness and accuracy of records and dispatch of business. He was always courteous, accommodating and gentlemanly.

Our county has lost an honored, worthy citizen and public servant. During his term of office he has had as his deputy Mr. Gemil Senff who, while his superior was sick, has had charge of the office.

The funeral service will be held at the Catholic Church in this city on tomorrow (Thursday) morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. T. J. McCaffrey, and the burial will be in St. Thomas Cemetery.

Mr. King is survived by his brothers, M. W., of Lexington; Jas. P. and Augustus, of our city; and sisters, Mrs. Sallie Welsh, of Lexington; Mrs. Joe M. Conroy, and Misses Mamie and Margaret, of our city, to whom we extend sympathy.

We will miss him.

Rev. H. G. Moody has returned and will preach as usual Sunday morning and evening.

The meeting by Rev. E. E. Dawson at the Queen Street Mission will continue during this week.

Rev. G. A. Joplin formerly of this city, now Secretary of the State Union Bible School Association, spent Sunday here and was greeted by large audiences who were glad to see and hear him. In the morning he preached at the Presbyterian church. In the evening there was a union meeting at the Christian church. His talk or address was relative to Bible School work in various phases and was interesting, helpful and educational. There are in Kentucky about 3,700 Bible Schools, yet only a small part of the children of school age are enlisted in the Bible Schools. The World's Bible School Convention meets in Washington, D. C., during the latter part of May. Kentucky is entitled to 57 delegates. All who wish can take the trip.

The Eighth District in C. W. B. M. and Bible School work is composed of the counties of Bath, Bourbon, Clark, Harrison, Montgomery and Nicholas. The district convention will be held at Winchester, beginning to-night and closing Friday night. The first session will consist of Words of Welcome, and a response by a C. W. B. M. representative from each county. The C. W. B. M. will occupy Thursday. Mrs. Alex Conner, District Manager, will preside. Mrs. John Gav, State President, will make an address, as will Mrs. M. E. Harlan, of Indianapolis, Mrs. A. M. Harrison and H. J. Dethrick.

BIBLE SCHOOL.

On Thursday evening the sessions of the Bible School Convention will begin, with W. E. Ellis, of Cynthia, as President. Prof. T. B. McCartney and H. L. Calhoun will speak on Christian Education. During Friday morning the President will deliver his address, followed by H. D. Clark, whose subject is "A Centennial Appreciation."

AFTERNOON.

Departmental Conferences on Superintendents, Elementary Grades, Adult Bible Classes and Teacher Training, and Bible School equipment will be held.

EVENING.

A Kentucky Mission Symposium will be the feature of this session.

Sins Against Women.

A late New York horror is that in which a young and pure girl was lured to the resort of a procurer of women s-a-e-s, by the promise of honest employment and killed when she refused to yield to a life of shame. Her charred remains were found stuffed up a chimney in a sack. Since Jan. 19 seventy-seven girls from 15 to 17 years of age have been reported missing from their New York homes, a large number of whom have never been heard from.

The murder of Elsie Siegel by a Chinaman and the finding of her body packed in a trunk after having been hacked almost beyond recognition, is fresh in the minds of most readers of daily papers. The 18-year-old youth who is charged with the murder of Ruth Wheeler, whose body showed that she was burned while yet alive, has been indicted.

A Novel Introduction.

The Dr. Howard Company have entered into an agreement with W. S. Lloyd's drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that W. S. Lloyd will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

W. S. Lloyd has been able to secure only a limited supply, so everyone who wishes to be cured of dyspepsia or constipation should call upon him at once or send him 25 cents by mail, and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price introductory offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if the specific does not cure. 39-41.

TWO DOANE STORIES

AMUSING TALES FATHERED BY BISHOP OF ALBANY.

Effect on the Congregation of Presence of Saint in the Pulpit— Couldn't Understand Having to Pay for Water.

That genial prelate William of Albany, otherwise Bishop Doane, has been visiting friends in southern Virginia and some of his quaint sayings are passing into literature that way. The bishop's lost took him a long drive to hear a curate who had the reputation of being a saint. The bishop looked glum on the homeward journey and when his companion asked him what ailed him he remarked that he should have obeyed his first inclination. "You see," he explained, "my experience is that a saint in the pulpit always makes martyrs in the pews. And this reminds me of something which is related of that venerable and most beloved prelate of the Church of England in modern times, Bishop Jeremy Taylor. A young curate preached his first sermon before a critical audience composed of the cathedral chapter and he acquitted himself very well, at least, as he believed. At the end of the service he went to his superior and asked him what he thought of the sermon. The bishop replied: 'There was one admirable passage. The curate beamed and looked expectant. It was the passage from the pulpit to the vestry.'

But Bishop Doane also heard a few new stories in southern Virginia and there are treats in store for his next guests. One was told by a young rector who had moved from the mountain side into the comparative luxury of a home in Lynchburg. Here he had city water and all that a modern city home demands. His old man, who had served him faithfully for years in the country, was the first guest in his city mansion. The young cleric took her proudly through his new home and showed everything in his power. Finally she went to the kitchen, there to be entertained by the goddess familiar with such courtly as sinks and ranges. She was deeply interested in turning the faucet and letting the water flow. Finally the modern cook could stand it no longer.

"Excuse me, Miss Hannah," she said, "but I must as yet not let the water waste like that. You see, we all on a meter. We all have to measure the water and pay for it. Miss John has to pay for every drop she does waste." The old cook was horrified.

"Massa John measure water? Pay for water?" she exclaimed in tragic tones. "Will all dem wells and wells of good water down here. Well I declare, the next time I cum to visit you'll see if I don't bring a barrel of water!"

Monkey as a Witness.

A remarkable story of a husband and wife convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment on the evidence of an ape comes from Dallas, La. L. A. Christopher and Mamie Starr were attached as performers to James Ackerman's circus when Ackerman's mutilated body was found.

Ackerman was feeding Scamp, a pet Himalayan ape, at the time he was killed. Afterwards when the ape saw Starr he flew into a terrible rage, dashing about his cage and shaking the bars in a fury, refusing to be quiet, while Starr was in sight, though previously it had been obedient. It repeated the actions when Starr's wife appeared.

There was no direct evidence that the Starrs committed the murder, the ape being the only living witness of the tragedy. They were arrested on suspicion, and when tried the ape was taken into court. Then it again showed rage and terror. This it is reported, influenced the jury more than the circumstantial evidence produced.

Write Cheerfully.

It seems quite impossible for some people to write a cheerful letter. One feels instinctively that the reading of a certain letter will give one a bad fit of the "blues," and it does. Why will not people keep their gloomy thoughts off paper? The unfortunate recipients cannot possibly sympathize to the proper extent—not knowing every particular—and it only has the effect of making them thoroughly miserable, in nine cases out of ten, over an imaginary woe which belongs to somebody else.

Consider it a duty to write cheerful letters, and, if you haven't anything cheerful to say, hunt till you find something. You won't have a very long search. If the sun doesn't shine to-day it will to-morrow or the day after.

Enthusiasm Dulled.

"Don't you feel as if you would like to leave footprints in the sands of time?" asked the ambitious child of papers. "No," answered Mr. Crossroads gloomily: "out where I live the mud is 18 inches deep, and I don't see as if I wanted to see another footprint as long as I live."

Successful Advertising.

"So your antagonist got the better of you in that controversy?" "In one way," replied Senator Rushum. "His contracts for lectures and articles amounted to considerably more than mine."

BIRD OF WARNING.

Blue Jay Saves Many Lives By His Harsh Notes of Alarm.

The blue jay is a terror to other birds, and does not receive any credit for the good he actually does. One of the worst things charged up against him is that he robs other birds' nests and eats the eggs. He is a loud-mouthed, arrogant bird that wants everybody in the woods to know exactly where he is. And right there is where he does something for the other birds and animals of the forest.

When the jay discovers a snake or a hawk or a crow, or anything that might do harm to the other things that live in the woods, he screams and yells and carries on at a great rate. The other birds have learned that, and when they hear the jay fussing, they would better get out of the way.

A man may be sneaking through the woods very softly, trying to get within range of a squirrel, when the jay discovers him. Then the bird begins squalling at the top of his voice, and the squirrel runs and hides. In that way he befriends the squirrel, of course, and it is possible that is why nature gave the jay a disposition to quarrel and to make a do-over everything and everybody.

He is a beauty in coloring, and as he stays with us all the winter he adds cheerfulness to the landscape when everything looks dead and dreary.—Dumb Animals.

Not since the days when Theodore Roosevelt was Commissioner of Police has New York been so dry on Sunday as on April 10. Drinks were to be had, of course, but the drought was nevertheless evident nearly all over the city. The police, are obeying Mayor Gaynor's order of "hands off."

The Strong Thought of Self.

The strong thought of self is to be entirely insulating—it is as restrictive of human contact as a live wire.—Mary Stewart Cutting, in "The Wayfarer."

STOMACHS REPAIRED.

Relieves Distress in Five Minutes —Guaranteed to Cure Indigestion, or Money Back.

Let Mrs. Griffith tell you about Mi-o-na, the greatest prescription for stomach troubles ever written:

"For years I have doctored for acute gastritis, but only received slight benefit, and had to be careful what I ate. But thanks to Mi-o-na stomach tablets, I can now eat anything. Last Christmas, after partaking a hearty turkey dinner, I was seized with an attack of acute indigestion, and the doctor worked over me for hours before I got relief. He paid me eight visits before I could say I was well enough to sit up. But since then I have taken Mi-o-na tablets and have not been troubled since. Before using Mi-o-na I had attacks about every month."

—Mrs. Ida, Griffith, 1213 C St., Washington, D. C., July 5, 1909. Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold by druggists everywhere and at W. S. Lloyd's for 50 cents a large box. They are guaranteed to cure indigestion, sour stomach, belching gas, dizziness, biliousness, heaviness, or any stomach ailment.

Put Up Prices.

The high cost of living in Ohio and elsewhere is due to an arbitrary scale of prices enforced by the big food products corporations, according to testimony given at Cleveland, Ohio, before the Legislative Committee which is investigating food prices.

Edward H. Klaustermeyer, president of the Ohio Retail Grocers' Association, was the principal witness examined. He declared that grocers were unable to make any profit on 70 per cent. of their merchandise, which they were compelled to purchase at exorbitant prices from the food products corporations.

They were therefore compelled to charge excessive prices for the raw materials in which they dealt.
